

SoulShine

The vision for this album began in the summer of 2006 with Rhonda and Greg Baker sitting in their basement rehearsal studio with a hand-held tape recorder (used to record lectures - back in the day). The concept for this project was to create an old-school album in both style and message. In honor of all the funky-soulful music of the 70's, the song writing process started with a groove - Greg's bass line over a drum loop (from a cheap Casio keyboard), which inspired a soulful melody from Rhonda. Sometimes the message fueled the music, other times the music inspired the lyric. Rhonda says, "I would sit outside on my back porch with an old-fashioned dual tape player and, while playing the original ideas from the hand-held recorder, would sing and record myself...then take that tape and play it in the dual tape player and record a new idea on the second tape...I would even rearrange songs this way...cutting parts and moving them to the end...who needs a fancy studio!!! No, really, I just like working outside in nature."

The final album (released in the spring of 2008) is a new millennium revival of a funky-soulful 70's horn band. The music keeps you groovin' while the message of the songs inspires you to look into your Soul, to find your love power, to create a peaceful coexistence with your Soul brothers and Soul sisters. SoulShine's live show takes you back to the old-school concerts where the musicians and audience become one in the music that moves both your feet and your heart...People...it's time...to let your SoulShine!
